

Tip: How to make our figurine charm tighter.

Written by admin_Emy

Wednesday, 15 July 2009 19:07 - Last Updated Thursday, 12 January 2012 09:24

---

From my experience:

- I will try to pull every single cycle tight, but not too tight.
- Don't worry about some cycle that might be a little loose, we will come back to fix it later.

- I will not repeat put line in bead that we need to come back to do something with that bead because it will make hole too tight and can not pass the line through, such as tail, ears, legs, etc.
  - After the whole figure is done but still have some spots that are loose, just go back to put line through all those loose spots in zigzag motion. This way will not only make your figurine tighter, but also give strength to your charm.